ARTIFICIAL TEETH.

IT is only within the last ten years that artificial teeth have been so universally worn as they are to-day. It is now an unusual thing to see even amongst the very poorest a mouth with gaps where the natural teeth have disappeared. It is still, however, difficult to convince many persons that artificial teeth can be absolutely fitted successfully to any mouth without the slightest pain, and provided they are properly made, the most nervous person can wear them without inconvenience.

By a combination of two of his latest patents Mr. SHIPLEY SLIPPER is now enabled to adapt Artificial Teeth to the mouth without the extraction of loose teeth or stumps. These Teeth, perfect in every way for eating and speaking, never change colour, are fitted to the mouth without any unsightly wires, cumbersome plates, or fastenings; and are so life-like as to defy the most experienced observer.

All Cases Guaranteed.

Painless Extraction (daily) by Nitrous Oxide Gas.

For those who may, from various causes, be unable or unwilling to take an anæsthetic, a new process (calorific) has been introduced, by means of which a preparation is applied locally to the gums; and, while the patient does not in any way lose consciousness, the unpleasant wrench is entirely obliterated.

Teeth also Painlessly Extracted by the NEW COCAINE INJECTION.

FITTING OF ARTIFICIAL TEETH (ENGLISH AND AMERICAN).

In regard to the fixing and fitting of Artificial Teeth to the mouth, so many improvements have been introduced of late years, that Dentistry of ten years ago and Dentistry of to-day are two distinct things. Improved mechanical contrivances have absolutely placed Artificial Teeth within the reach of all classes of society. Old teeth and stumps are not now removed from the mouth, but are made useful and lasting by means of the new patent suction process. This does not in any way interfere with the taste, and it assists and improves articulation.

In regard to this process it can be used equally well with Vulcanite, Thionite, Coralite, Platinum, and Gold Cases, and Teeth that have already been made on the old-fashioned principle can be readily adapted to the new at a really trifling cost.

Mr. SHIPLEY SLIPPER is also able to fix Artificial Teeth by the new American method of bar, crown, and bridge work, without plates or wires of any kind.

These teeth, although of comparatively modern date in introduction, are giving universal satisfaction to the wearers, as Mr. SHIPLEY SLIPPER'S testimonials will show.

A PERSONAL INTERVIEW.

Mr. J. SHIPLEY SLIPPER is continually receiving letters from all parts of the United Kingdom, asking if a personal visit to his surgery is absolutely necessary before having a case of teeth fitted to the mouth. He wishes, therefore, emphatically to state that—notwithstanding representations to the contrary—no Dentist can properly fit a case of Artificial Teeth, be it ever so small, without FIRST examining the mouth to be fitted.

One interview only is necessary, lasting not generally more than half-an-hour, but this interview must be insisted on before commencing to make a set of Artificial Teeth. Country patients, to prevent disappointment, should write the day before coming to London to see Mr. SHIPLEY SLIPPER, then when absolutely necessary he will make arrangements to have their cases completed the same day.

MODERN DENTISTRY.

The following appeared in "THE PALL MALL BUDGET," May 16th, 1889.

"Ten thousand artificial teeth are used in six months by Mr. Shipley Slipper, the dentist, of 37, High Holborn. He told me some of his patients were very impatient. They won't wait to have their teeth stopped with gold; it must be something that takes less time. Mr. Slipper told me that he had just made a set of teeth for a girl of eighteen; but as her jaw wasn't quite developed she couldn't have the full number. I was surprised to hear that a girl so young should want false teeth; but the dentist didn't seem to think much of it. He didn't know anything about high prices; a guinea is the lowest figure for a set. This is different to the twenty, thirty, and fifty guineas of the West End. 'An American dissenting minister called upon me yesterday,' said Mr. Slipper. 'If he had been an Englishman he wouldn't have had a tooth left in his head. As it was he had nearly all of them, only they had been stopped. An Englishman never goes to a dentist unless he is in pain, and after nearly all his teeth are gone. Is it possible to detect artificial teeth? Certainly not. I can't do it myself. We always give a defect to a set of new teeth; a defect that was in the original if possible; if not one as natural as possible. A turned tooth, for instance, takes all trace of artificiality from a set of teeth.' Precipitate and not camphorated chalk is the best thing to clean one's teeth with. Camphorated chalk makes them yellow. Mr. Slipper has a little electric battery to fill and stop teeth with. The work is done more regularly with electricity than by hand. The dentist's final verdict on his customers was: All men are impatient and all women are nervous when they come here."

MASTICATION.

Mr. William Jelly, Fellow of the Royal College of Physicians, and lately residing at 105, St. Clare Road, West Kensington, went out on Wednesday night to attend a meeting at Exeter Hall. When passing under the portico of the Haymarket Theatre he was seen to stagger and fall down, dead. At the inquest, which was held yesterday by Mr. Troutbeck, at the St. Martin's Vestry Hall, a doctor, who had made a post-mortem examination, said that the deceased suffered from heart disease. The stomach was full of undigested food. Deceased had only three teeth, and was unable to masticate, and the undigested food had pressed upon the heart. Artificial teeth "might have saved his life."—From the "Daily Telegraph."

Mr. SLIPPER has been very successful in fitting many persons with Artificial Teeth, perfect in every way for eating and speaking, and he will be happy to give any one that has lost their natural teeth an exact estimate of the cost of fitting them with Artificial Teeth, without extracting any loose teeth or stumps they have already in the mouth.

Some people are diffident in applying to the Dentist to fill up such gaps as they have unfortunately in the mouth, because of the stories of the unavailing attempts of the unskilful to perfectly represent nature; but we would particularly impress upon any such into whose hands this little work may fall, that these imperfections and failures belong, not to the art itself, but to those who practise it.

An eminent physician states: "When patients come to me suffering from indigestion, or any other form of dyspepsia, I always ask them to open their mouths. Ah! to examine their tongues! Not at all! but to see that their masticators are in thorough working order before I attempt to prescribe any physic to relieve their sufferings."

Notwithstanding this, patients, when they come to inquire about a set of Artificial Teeth, are continually asking, "But shall I be able to eat with them?" In answer to this query, Mr. SHIPLEY SLIPPER submits the following copies of testimonials from those who have been successfully fitted; he selects them from amongst a number received from all parts of the United Kingdom, as being a fair sample of many others:—

These are published by permission of the writers, who will be glad to answer any further inquiries.

"POST OFFICE, FILKINS, GLOUCESTER, March 5th, 1888.

"Dear Sir,—It is nearly six months since you put in my teeth, and they perform their work well. I continually put them to the severest tests. Can eat toasted crusts. In speaking and singing they exceed my expectations. I never think of taking them out of my mouth except for cleansing, or to show them to sufferers, to whom I remark, go to Mr. S. S. and do as I have done. Mine are more useful and comfortable than are those of some I know who have paid ten, twenty, and even thirty guineas for theirs.

"I am, yours truly (Signed) JOHN PIGOTT."

"43, ENDWELL ROAD, BROCKLEY, S.E.

"Dear Sir,—The set of teeth you made and fitted for me, more than twelve months since, are to me invaluable, both for eating and speaking, being without springs or wires.

"I am, dear Sir, yours truly (Signed) E. ASHDOWN, Baptist Minister."

"39, HOLMESDALE ROAD, REIGATE, 4th March.

"My dear Sir,—I received my teeth quite safely. I am very pleased indeed with them. I think they are beautifully made and fitted. I have never seen any so good, and at so moderate a price. I shall feel glad to recommend you to all my friends at Reigate.

"Yours sincerely (Signed) ROBT. CAFFYN."

"51, PARK STREET, HORSHAM, 14th Dec.

"Dear Sir,—I am very pleased indeed with the teeth you fitted me. They are a great comfort to me in eating. I shall be very glad to recommend you to any of my friends that may be suffering, as I was, from decayed teeth.

"Truly yours (Signed) E. ALLEN."

"WALLCROUCH FARM, SHOVERS GREEN, HAWKHURST.

"Dear Sir,—The set of teeth you fitted for me are so much to my comfort, and continue to wear well. They have not been discerned by any of my intimate friends. I recommend all who feel the need of better mastication pressing on them to come to you.

"Yours respectfully (Signed) S. E. ROGERS."

"13, HARROWBY ROAD, GRANTHAM.

"Dear Sir,—After testing your work for a few weeks I wish to say I am perfectly satisfied. I have been able to eat with great comfort since consulting you. Accept my thanks for your excellent workmanship.

"Truly yours (Signed) B. SPOONER."

Rev. C. SNOSSWELL, Christ Church Parsonage, Braintree, Essex, writes:—

"My dear Sir,—The set of teeth supplied by you are giving me such entire satisfaction, both in eating and speaking, that I feel bound to testify to the excellence of your system of Painless Dentistry without the extraction of decayed and loose stumps. The suction plate answers admirably its purpose of holding the upper teeth securely in their place, without the encumbrance of springs. I may say further, for the encouragement of public speakers especially, that on the very day the teeth were fitted, I conducted a Bible Class with but slight inconvenience, and on the following Sunday I went through my Church Service and preached in great comfort.

"Yours truly (Signed) C. SNOSSWELL."

The Rev. ROBERT PHILPOTT writes :—

"2, ST. PHILIP'S ROAD, SURBITON, Sept. 21st.

"Dear Sir,—I feel that it is simple justice to you to say that the painless process by which you charmed away two ugly, out-of-line incisors, and fitted four others most artistically, in a few hours, was little less than magical. You have converted an enemy, and given him new power to add to his forty-five years of teaching and preaching, for which he thanks you very heartily, and will cordially recommend you.

"Yours faithfully (Signed) ROBERT PHILPOTT."

Rev. THOS. NEWBOLD, Baptist Minister, Gamlingay, Cambs., writes:—

"Dear Sir,—I am very pleased with the new sets of teeth you have supplied me with for three pounds. They are far superior to a set I had about seven years ago, which cost me nine pounds ten shillings. Many sincere thanks.

"(Signed) THOMAS NEWBOLD, Baptist Minister."

"MONHUEM, BURMAH.

"Dear Sir,—Having now had a four months' trial of the work you performed for me, I now write to thank you for the same, and to express my approval of its unqualified success. You undertook my case in spite of my being hard pressed for time, and had such confidence in your skill as to send me back to India three days after completion, and without me having the time or opportunity to make any alteration, if necessary. In that confidence you were fully justified and borne out. As I, who had for years previous been suffering pain and discomfort from the cases (upper and lower) I was then wearing, have since I availed myself of your services not suffered one moment's pain or discomfort, I shall have much pleasure in recommending you to my friends, and gladly anthorise you to use my name if you wish it as a reference.

"Meanwhile, I am, yours gratefully

(Signed) H. B. DAVIDSON, Supt. of Police."

"CLAYBURY VILLAS, 80, BUXTON ROAD,
"STRATFORD.

"Mr. J. S. SLIPPER,—Mrs. Vinall sends her testimonial of perfect satisfaction as to the skilful fitting and complete comfort of her new set of Dentals supplied to her by Mr. J. S. SLIPPER. Mrs. Nehemiah Vinall will gladly testify to his excellent ability and attention to the art of Dentistry in every way.

"Remaining, dear Sir, yours truly,
"(Signed) MRS. N. VINALL."

67, HIGH STREET, STAMFORD,
November 5th, 1889.

"Dear Sir,—I have pleasure in bearing testimony to your skill as a Dentist. The upper set of teeth you made and fitted in for me in July last have never required the least alteration since; they fit most admirably, and never give the least trouble. I very often forget that I have any false teeth at all. My speech also is as plain as if they were my own teeth. I only take them out occasionally for cleaning. I have pleasure in recommending you.

"I am, Sir, yours truly,
"(Signed) W. P. DOLBY."

Rev. ANDREW D. EDWARD, writes:—

"BELMONT, DULWICH RISE, S.E., August 20th.

"Dear Sir,—You have received so many testimonials from men wiser and better than myself, it almost seems presumptuous for me to write to you; and yet I should like to express my gratitude for your courteous and skilful attention to myself. For nearly two years I have been practically testing your workmanship, and it has not been found wanting in any way. Indeed, I should think it was as near perfection as it is possible for human power to reach.

"Yours very faithfully,
"(Signed) ANDREW D. EDWARD."

Mr. BRANDON, Baptist Minister, Chelsea, writes:—

"101, BEAUFORT STREET, CHELSEA.

"Dear Sir,—The teeth you have fitted for me and the friends I have recommended to your establishment, have given every satisfaction, and while it is so I shall continue to say to my friends, 'GO TO SHIPLEY SLIPPER, and you will get good fitting teeth at small cost.'

"Yours very truly (Signed) ALFRED BRANDON."

Mr. LAWSON, Nonconformist Minister at Brighton, writes:—

"37, SPRINGFIELD ROAD, BRIGHTON.

"Dear Mr. SLIPPER,—I am glad to tell you that, notwithstanding my strong objection to dental assistance, the old servants which were allowed to remain have become quite reconciled to their new companions, and the teeth are a great comfort to me.

"Yours sincerely (Signed) THOMAS LAWSON."

"34, BOUVERIE STREET, FLEET STREET, E.C.

"My dear Sir,—As a pleasure to myself, and a duty to others, I wish to record my testimony to the value and efficiency of the teeth you fitted for me in September. They speedily adapted themselves to the mouth, and have never been anything but a comfort to me. My meals are now a pleasure, and my general health has greatly improved.

"Believe me, truly yours,

"(Signed) WILLIAM WILEMAN."

AGE NO OBJECTION.

An old Chelsea Pensioner, with £1 to spend on artificial teeth, was sent to Mr. SHIPLEY SLIPPER by one of his patients, and he made him a set of teeth; after some time the following unsolicited testimonial was sent to Mr. SHIPLEY SLIPPER by the Chelsea Pensioner.

"ROYAL HOSPITAL, CHELSEA,

"November 28th, 1889.

"Sir,—Please pardon me writing you. I think it is no more than my duty to thank you very much for the comfortable fit I have just received from your establishment; they are quite equal to those I had from you before.

"Yours respectfully (Signed) R. WRAIGHT."

In selecting the above testimonials from amongst a number of others, far too numerous to publish, Mr. Shipley Slipper has endeavoured, as far as possible, to select from distinct parts of the country, so that most of those who may read this little book will find some one in their district who has already consulted Mr. Shipley Slipper.

No letter has been published without the distinct permission of the writer, and no names of patients would ever be used except at their express desire.

The writers of all the above testimonials have kindly consented to answer any question that may be sent to them from those who think of placing themselves in the hands of Mr. Shipley Slipper.

The originals of the above, together with a number of others, from Ministers, Public Speakers, etc., may be seen on application to Mr. J. Shipley Slipper, R.D.S., Surgeon Dentist, 37, High Holborn, London, W.C.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS

ON

MR. J. SHIPLEY SLIPPER'S

SYSTEM OF

"PAINLESS DENTISTRY."

All the originals of the undermentioned articles can be seen on application.

The following Opinions of the Press have been given in connection with Mr. J. SHIPLEY SLIPPER'S System of Painless Dentistry:—

MISS ADA BALLIN,

Lecturer to the National Health Society; Editor Health Department, "Lady's Pictorial,"

Says in that paper of October 6th, "You had best go to Mr. SHIPLEY SLIPPER, of 37, High Holborn, W.C. (opposite Chancery Lane). He is thoroughly reliable, and very moderate in his charges, but you had better make an appointment, as he has such an enormous practice that, otherwise, when you go to his place he might not be able to see you. You should take his advice after he has seen the mouth, as it is hardly possible to advise without doing so. I know of no process for tightening loose teeth. I believe he can make Artificial Teeth from a guinea the set, but of course the price varies with what is required."

Mr. WILCOCKSON, Editor of Zion's Witness, says :—

"'PAINLESS DENTISTRY.'—Mr. SLIPPER has just issued a small pamphlet upon the above subject, which he will gladly send to any name and address, gratuitously and post free. For ourselves, we can truthfully say that we want nothing better than the sets of teeth Mr. SLIPPER fitted to our mouth. So nicely do they fit, that we often quite forget that we have any foreign substance between our jaws. We have had them now nearly two years, and if there be any difference at all, they fit and suit us better than ever."

"CROYDON CHRONICLE," February 16th, 1889.

"PAINLESS DENTISTRY.—Mr. SLIPPER possesses first-class testimonials as a dental surgeon, he being, in fact, at the head of his profession. He attends Caterham Valley the last Saturday in the month, and our readers, who require any dental work done well, combined with moderate charges, cannot do better than pay this gentleman a visit."

"THE FREEMAN" (Baptist Newspaper), Nov. 17, says :—

"Mr. J. SHIPLEY SLIPPER, Dental Surgeon, of 37, High Holborn, is one of the foremost practitioners of the day."

Mr. J. GADSBY (whose name has been very many years connected with The Gospel Standard), in The Christian's Monthly Record of Jan., writes as follows :—

"Mr. J. S. SLIPPER, Dentist, 37, High Holborn, has issued a nice little book containing some valuable information for those who suffer from toothache."

Mr. A. J. BAXTER, Minister of Cavendish Place Chapel, Eastbourne, says, in The Gospel Advocate :—

"Those of our friends who require artificial aid in process of mastication cannot, we think do better than apply to Mr. J. SHIPLEY SLIPPER, Surgeon Dentist, 37, High Holborn, London, W.C."

THE EDITOR OF "WOMAN," February 15th, 1890, says:—

"Several readers of Woman have asked me to recommend a clever dentist whose charges are moderate. I sought the advice of Mr. SHIPLEY SLIPPER, of 37, High Holborn, as much in the interests of my readers as of my small daughter, whose teeth required attention. Now those who are accustomed to associate tooth-extraction with the neighbourhood of Hanover Square will perhaps be disgusted with the locality I selected, but I have no local prejudices, and wanted to get the best for my money. I found most elegantly-appointed rooms, and, what is more important, a practitioner who for skill and 'manner' so essential to nervous women and children) is unequalled, so far as my experience goes, in the West-end. The operating apartment is worthy of a visit, if only as a little museum of American 'notions' in dentistry."

"EARTHEN VESSEL," August 2nd.

"Mr. J. SHIPLEY SLIPPER sends us a copy of his new pamphlet, 'Painless Dentistry.' To those who require Artificial Teeth, or whose teeth cause them trouble, we advise them to send for this little pamphlet, which can be had free of charge on sending name and address. We notice it contains testimonials from such men as Mr. Wilcockson, the late Thos. Chivers, Mr. Lawson, Mr. E. Ashdown, and others, whom Mr. SHIPLEY SLIPPER has successfully fitted with Artificial Teeth; and we ourselves can testify to his excellent skill and great attention to the art of Dentistry."

"THE TRUE TEMPLAR," April, 1889.

"PAINLESS DENTISTRY," by J. SHIPLEY SLIPPER, R.D.S. This (fourth) edition of Mr. SHIPLEY SLIPPER'S brochure, brings up to date not only extracted opinions of the press, but testimonials from patients, all indicative of the satisfaction afforded by Mr. SLIPPER'S skill as a Dental Surgeon. Since we last noticed this publication, we are in a position to add a personal testimony as favourable as any quoted in the pamphlet. The latter can be obtained, post-free, from Mr. SLIPPER, at 37, High Holborn, London, W.C., where the Consulting Rooms are now lighted throughout entirely with the electric light, so that a visit may be paid in comfort even on the darkest days, and defiance may even be bidden to London fogs."

"KINGSTON & RICHMOND EXPRESS," Feb. 16th, 1889.

"To People Without Teeth.—This might very well be the title of the little pamphlet designated 'Painless Dentistry,' which Mr. J. Shipley Slipper has addressed to people with bad teeth, with few teeth, or with no molars at all. 'You cannot assimilate your food properly,' says the doctor, 'without teeth, nature's full number of them, and properly sound.' If any one thinks he can, Mr. Slipper's latest pamphlet will disabuse his mind and teach him otherwise. He cannot do it. With teeth gone, or with the trifle he has left of them, he will think there is very little of what the Americans call 'a show' left for him in this world. Not at all. Mr. Slipper will make a man (of teeth) of him, and send him on his way rejoicing. His pamphlet shows how this can be done, or rather how Mr. Slipper does it—because there are various ways; some good, some bad, and some indifferent. Any number of testimonials say Mr. Slipper's is the good way, and his practice proves it. In this connection one is tempted to say, 'Taste and try.' One may read and resolve, any way."

SPECIAL.

Mr. Shipley Slipper is at home for consultation daily from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m.; Saturday till 3 p.m. Country patients should endeavour to see Mr. Slipper as early as possible so that if necessary their cases may be executed the same day. Consultation and all information Free.

As special cases demand special remedies and special advice, Mr. Shipley Slipper will be happy to supply any further information in strictest confidence, free of charge, either by correspondence or at a personal interview.
